COUNTY NEWS IN REVIEW

Love (?) Seat—

A love seat purchased from the gypsies, which was supposed to be one hundred per cent willow wood, brought surprising results last week when four members of a Menlo Park family came down with poison oak.

The source of the poison was not determined until one of the family discovered several poison oak branches woven into the back of the rustic love seat.

Upon further investigation it was found that the family of gypsy furniture makers, too, had contracted the poisoning.

Soil Conservation—

County officials, directors of the San Mateo county soil conservation district and federal and state soil conservation experts recently made aerial inspection trips of the 17,000-acre terrain which they hope to save from further erosion.

A plane under contract to the Soil Conservation service took four parties over the district, which extends from the San Francisco county line to Montara.

End of an Era—

John Thurston Ralston, who lived 82 of his 87 years in San Mateo county, who was born in a covered wagon, and who is believed to be the oldest member of the Masonic Order in the county, died in Redwood City last week.

Ralston was the first caretaker of Memorial park and his father,

High School Essay Winners Announced

Ane Mjehovich won the Lincoln essay contest at Jefferson Union high school, it was announced today. Her name will be engraved on the Lincoln plaque which was presented to the school several years ago by Arthur J. Bodien, prominent local citizen.

Students given honorable mention were: Evelyn Azzaro, "Lincoln's Human Qualities;" Louis Nava, "Lincoln the Politician;" and Gloria Linden, "Lincoln as a Father."

Leaders Praise Freedom

"If we realized at what cost our freedom had been bought, we would no longer accept our democracy as a matter of course, but would feel a greater responsibility for the preservation of our democratic principles."

This was the theme of an address delivered by Mrs. Mary Ann Holt, department Americanism chairman, at a joint meeting of American Legion No. 410, post and auxiliary, last Wednesday evening at Legion hall.

Members, district officers, city officials, social and service club representatives attended.

Following Mrs. Holt's address, Mrs. Ethel M. Flynn, department Americanism secretary-treasurer, gave comprehensive reasons from a mother's point of view, why an adequate national defense and preparedness program were needed.

Reminiscent of "Speak softly—but carry a big stick," Mrs. Flynn stated that in a belligerent world the only language strong enough to be understood was a sufficiently large and properly-trained armed force.

James Ferguson, principal of Jefferson Union high school, stressed the school's duty in help-

New Dalai Lama Chosen in Age-Old Tibetian Ritual

Vernazza Twins Score Another Win

The Vernazza twins, James and Joe, proved that Lembi's Indians of Rhythm, en masse or singly, are in a class by themselves, when they won in the Bennie Walker semi-finals, last Monday night, on Station KGO.

The Vernazza duo, both artists on the accordion, will appear in the finals, April 1, in an attempt to bring the prize to Daly City. Last season they won the contest, and were awarded a week's engagement at the Golden Gate theatre in San Francisco.

Another member of the Indians to win a first prize recently is Albert Marcucci, who appeared at Eddie's Advershow at the Lyceum theatre. He will appear again at the Lyceum, March 2.

Still another Indian winner is George Percival, miniature vio-

County Clerk Announces Dates

Announcement was made today by W. H. Augustus, county clerk, that he will accept applications between March 1 and 15, from qualified electors, for appointment to serve on precinct boards for the Presidential primary election to be held May 7, 1940.

Applicants will be considered in the order received and official appointments mailed about April 10.

Those who have previously served should submit new applications if they wish to serve again.

Daly City Council Authorizes Purchase

Daly City council last Tuesday evening authorized the purchase of 73 fire helmets for members of the Daly City Fire department, as recommended by the Board of Fire Commissioners.

A motion was unanimously passed that bids should be requested for a new police car.

Stop signs were ordered erected at Hanover and Acton and at Oliver and Hanover to protect the General Pershing school, which is located in that district.

Principal Secures Foods

Through the efforts of James Ferguson, principal of Jefferson Union high school, and the cooperation of the State Relief administration, the high school cafeteria has been featuring "surplus foods" this week in addition to the regular daily menu.

The SRA receives the food from the Federal Surplus Commodity corporation. The chief purpose of these extra victuals, according to authorities, is to encourage the appetites of those students who are not up to their proportional standards.

This week Jefferson was fortunate enough to have corn bread, chocolate, apples, oranges, bread and butter, and oat-meal cookies, served free of charge to the students as part of the school lunch.

In addition, all students were weighed, and those who were found to be underweight received special food such as chocolate and oatmeal mush during the free periods of the morning. An actual record of the progress made by these students will be kept by the physical education teachers.

A total of six schools in San Mateo county are participating in the program, with 525 children benefiting.

Scoutmasters Frank Coughlin and Joseph Straughan cordially invite the pulbic.

Fire Companies Hold Joint Drill

A joint drill was held for DCFD Companies Nos. 1, 4 and 5, Friday evening, under the supervision of Assistant Chief Arthur J. Bodien, Battalion Chief Kennedy and the Board of Instructors.

Called by Chief Andrew P. Chesney, the drill was to ascertain if the north-eastern section of Daly City had adequate fire protection.

Using a newly-installed hydrant, Company No. 4 pumps delivered four streams of water simultaneously, with the chemical line held in reserve.

It was the opinion of fire department members that this section of the city was well supplied with water for fire fighting purposes.

After drill, all companies gathered at Company No 5 firehouse for refreshments. Chief Chesney and the instructors gave talks on fire fighting.

Chief Chesney awarded the order for 73 new type fire helmets to the lowest bidder. Delivery is expected in thirty days.

Busses Show Increase

Bus passengers during the first fifteen days of February indicate a ten per cent increase over the first fifteen days of January, according to figures released today from the office of Julius F. Castelan, bus superintendent.

A total of 8422 passengers were reported during the first half of this month, said Castelan, as compared with 7659 during a corresponding period last month.

This breaks down into a February average of 561 passengers per day as compared with a daily average of 510 during the first fifteen days of January. The average for January as a whole was 549 passengers per day.

"The steady increase the busses are showing is very encouraging," said Castelan. "We think that as soon as more people avail themselves of the 5c round-trip fare from any point in Daly City to any other point within the city limits and back again, the busses will show an even more substantial rise."

Castelan also told the press that Lucky Homes incorporated began

Coat Sleeve Saves Mrs. Lena Kelly's Arm

Only the heavy sleeve of the coat she was wearing saved Mrs. Lena Kelly, 167 Goethe street, from a severely cut arm when the street car in which she was riding Friday morning gave a lurch, sending her arm through a window.

Mrs. Kelly left her seat in the street car as it was approaching Goethe street. Suddenly the car swerved, throwing her off balance. As she flung out her arm to save herself from a fall, she said, her hand crashed through the window. The jagged edges of the glass slashed through her glove as she pitched forward toward the broken window.

Mrs. Kelly was taken to a local hospital for treatment. Her hand will be bandaged for several more days.

HOME'S A NICE PLACE

The President of the United States has proclaimed 1940 as "Travel America Year." This, we think, is an excellent idea.

In the past we have been too apt to disparage our own great nation. Perhaps seeing it at first hand, North, East, South, West, will give us a new appreciation, a new concept of these United States of ours. Certainly the fact that we can cross state borders without meeting soldiers and suffering all the indignities of passport and luggage search and that we need not fear the drone of every distant aeroplane should suggest that we have something by way of government that we do not want to toss aside lightly.

Let's "see the Americas," and especially our own country, this year. Both our appreciation and criticism of our national life should have more authority for the experience. We should know what we're talking about, praising or condemning, before we rave too much.

Prize Essay Tells of Slavery

(Editor's Note: The following essay, written by Ane Mjehovich, won the annual Lincoln essay contest at Jefferson Union high school last week. The author's name will be inscribed on the Lincoln plaque presented to the school several years ago by Arthur J. Bodien, local citizen.)

Lincoln The Emancipator

The last period of Lincoln's life began when the controversy about slavery became acute. The Republican party, which was formed to prevent any extension of the slave-holding area, had Abraham Lincoln as its leader. In 1856 he was an unsuccessful candidate for the vice-presidency, but continued to lead the Republican party. In 1860 he was nominated for the Presidency, and succeeded in being elected. When the Southern States seceded from the Union in 1861, the Northern states, under Lincoln's direction, entered upon the Civil War. Amid circumstances of great difficulty he directed the campaigns, and in the end the North was victorious.

Despite the urging of enthusiasts, Lincoln refrained, in the early part of the Civil War, from issuing an emancipation proclamation, chiefly because it would alienate the slaveholding border states, the loyalty and support of which he was desperately trying to hold. In all his utterances he urged that the war was being fought to preserve the Union. His decision to issue such a proclamation came as a sudden change in his policy in the summer of 1862, and was prompted possibly by the foreign situation. It was especially thought that it would win for the North the support of the people in England and make it more difficult for the British government to join or aid the confederacy.

Lincoln always hated slavery. Yet he was never an Abolitionist, for the Abolitionists, who were ridiculed as long-haired men and short-haired women, or cranks, hated the constitution and the Union as well as slavery. Because the constitution recognized the existence of slavery and protected it within the states where it existed, they denounced it as a league with death. They loudly advocated disunion and separation of the North from the South. Lincoln, on the other hand, felt a deep passion for the Union, and it was his faith that the principles of liberty and equality, on which it was founded, would surely lead in the end to the gradual emancipation of the slaves. He said that the nation would not remain half-free and half-slave permanently, that it would either become one thing or the other, and that under the inspiration of the Declaration of Independence and the democratic institutions of the republic, freedom would triumph.

Father Sorasio expressed hope that all the Italians of his parish would attend. Holy Mass will be said at 7:30 a. m., daily, followed by a short sermon. At 7:30 p. m., each evening, there will be Rosary, the Mission sermon and Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

Prize Essay Honors Lincoln

(Editor's note: the following essay recently won the annual Arthur J. Bodien Lincoln trophy for Jefferson grammar school. It was written by Verna Moresco, high seventh grade pupil. Jefferson has won the much-coveted Lincoln trophy five times in the past eight years.)

Abraham Lincoln

Straightforwardness and honesty—these were among the many traits so characteristic of our beloved Abraham Lincoln. Homely, tall, awkward and ungainly—these were the words that described his appearance.

His appearance did not seem to have any effect on the people. The truthfulness in what he said, and also, his love, kindness and equality to the highest and poorest of the people is what won their hearts.

As we all know, he was born in Hodgenville on February 12, 1809. Every opportunity he had was turned to studying or reading books. He did not have an opportunity as we have today, but obtained as much as possible in reading books.

In his later years he obtained a job. While occupying this job he was sent on a trip to New Orleans. There he saw a sight of which he disapproved very much. Colored people were being sold as slaves. His kind heart was hurt very much when he saw this.

In 1861 he was elected president. Some years later he made the Emancipation Proclamation which freed the slaves. He served two terms as president, but while serving his second term he was assassinated at Ford's theater by John Booth.

His death brought much grief and sorrow to the people who loved and showed great respect to one of our great American patriots.

"Grandma Fahy" Celebrates Birthday

Mrs. Margaret Fahy, 631 Bellevue avenue, was the honored guest at a banquet given by Court St. Mary No. 1155, CDA, Thursday evening. The occasion celebrated Mrs. Fahy's eighty-first birthday.

Presented with a corsage of gardenias, the guest of honor was escorted to the banquet hall while guests sang, "Happy Birthday to You."

The tables were artistically decorated in red and white with the Valentine motif throughout. Centerpiece was a huge birthday cake with eighty-one candles on it. Mrs. Fahy's favor was a red and white flower pot of red tulips.

She thanked the guests for their kindness, saying that she hoped she would see them all on her next birthday. Upon leaving she was given still another token of esteem, a large bouquet of daffodils.

A pioneer of Daly City, Mrs. Fahy is well known here and referred to affectionately by relatives, friends and neighborhood children as Grandma Fahy.

Tennis Ball Mystery

Never mind the needle, Watson, the mystery of the bouncing rubber balls has solved itself. French sleuths were aghast, not to mention agog and a-twitter, when they found 600 hollow rubber balls on a highway leading from the Belgian frontier. When each was found to contain two pellets filled with liquid chemicals they suspected nothing less than an international plot to blow something up. Mystery was laughed away when a French manufacturer explained they were just ordinary tennis balls that had rolled off a truck in a routine shipment. The frightening pellets? Heat converted them to gas, which made the balls bounce better.

Bears Welcome Tourists

Yellowstone is not the only place where bears welcome visitors, for tourists to Zakopane, Poland's famous holiday resort, report that huge polar bears meet them on the roads walking upright on their hind legs. They are men in bears' clothing usually accompanied by a photographer who will perform his function while the visitor poses between two terrifying bruins.

Snow sports are at their best in our many western winter wonderlands and easily accessible by Greyhound over broad all-year highways.

People say modern lighting that is "easy on the eyes" makes the eyes feel better . . . and they are right!

Good lighting brings out the beauty of home furnishings. It aids personal beauty, too.

Light that is glaring brightness or that is dim and gloomy makes hard work of seeing. It causes squints, frowns and scowls and brings on many premature wrinkles and face-lines.

Good, modern lighting merely means the right kind of light, and the right amount of light where you read or sew or use your eyes. And you can have it easily, quickly, inexpensively. A Home Lighting Recommendation chart made out for your home will fit lighting to serve the exact seeing-needs in your home. This is a free service and there is no obligation. Hundreds are light conditioning their homes. Why not you?

Chameleon's Colors

The chameleon does not arbitrarily imitate the hue of the object on which it rests, nor is the process wholly under its control. The changes are reactions to certain conditions of light and temperature and to various emotional states, such as fear and anger. The physical cause may be traced to two differently colored layers of pigment under control of the nervous system. The best known species is ordinarily a greenish-gray, from which it changes to emerald green or to dull black, sometimes showing reddish or yellowish spots.

Shipwrecks Missing

New Zealand has a shipwrecks society and no shipwrecks. It was disclosed by the Shipwrecks Relief society that money is accumulating in the bank for want of disaster. The society obtains its finances from the shipping companies and the harbor boards of this country, all of which make an annual contribution. Year by year the funds grow larger. Now they stand at $80,000 and are safely invested. This has resulted in the society now receiving more than it spends. The position is regarded with satisfaction by local governments, it seems. Mayor Arthur H. Allen of Dunedin has said: "It is gratifying to know this money has been invested in gilt edged securities."

Tractor Romance

When Father's day rolls around next year a tractor on the farm of J. M. Templeton, near Colorado City, Texas, should not be forgotten. In fact, the tractor was almost a mother. A wren built her nest beneath the seat. Heat from the motor kept the eggs warm all day while the wren waited in a tree and took over the job at night. After the eggs were hatched the tractor was brought in at noon daily so the mother could feed her chirping offspring until the family was strong enough to fly away.

Honest Englishman

It's better late than never, reasoned Jesse Wallace, as he walked into a London, England, police station and handed a pair of old-fashioned gold-rimmed spectacles to the desk sergeant. "I found them when I was down here on my honeymoon 25 years ago," he explained, "and the matter slipped my mind until I got home. I decided to turn them over to police on my next visit to London, and this is it."

Role of "Ethel Turp" No Cinch, Says Ann Sothern

Ann Sothern achieves one of her greatest professional ambitions in "Joe and Ethel Turp Call on the President," which opens at the Daly City theatre tomorrow, when for the first time she creates on the screen a character first made popular in fiction. She plays Ethel Turp, known to millions of readers as the very feminine wife of Joe Turp of Damon Runyon's popular stories.

"To play a character that is known to thousands of readers who already have formed a mental picture of her is a decided challenge to an actress," says Miss Sothern. "It is such challenges that make acting interesting."

The story concerns the visit of Joe and Ethel Turp to the White House and their interview with the president on behalf of a postman who has tampered with the mail in order to prevent a woman from learning that her son has become a criminal. In the end, they not only get the help they want from the president but also are able to advise him on perplexing national questions.

Companion feature on the new bill is "Allegheny Uprising," starring Claire Trevor and John Wayne.

The world's oldest history "book" is an ancient stone tablet in the National Museum of Palermo, Sicily, which records the years from 3400 to 2700 B. C. not by dates but by mention of important events and personalities.

European Gold

In many European countries gold is so hoarded by the government that its use for dental fillings is prohibited. In Russia cavities are commonly filled by several kinds of metal alloys.

Speeders, Beware!

More than 100 motorists were given speeding citations over the week-end as the State highway patrol in San Mateo county staged a drive against fast driving, concentrating on Bayshore highway and El Camino Real. Tickets were given all who exceeded 50 miles an hour.

A landslide on Coast highway north of Sharp Park blocked the road for 12 hours Saturday and traffic was rerouted to Skyline boulevard, while Sunday night a smaller slide on the Half Moon Bay road less than a mile from the Skyline covered half the thoroughfare.

Swiss Birthrate

The Swiss, with the world's lowest birthrate, may soon become a "vanishing race," latest vital statistics about the nation disclose. Swiss babies born in 1936 were 20,000 fewer than those in 1900, and between those dates the number of births a 1,000 potential mothers slumped from 266 to 131. Should the decline continue, Switzerland's death rate in 1945 will exceed its birth rate.
